Autoworkers Meeting of the International Labour Network of Solidarity and Struggles

Leading automakers enterprises and carmakers in general are deepening their restructuring plans and are going through a period of change they call "strategic." They are using the changes made with the so-called "4.0 Industry" and adaptations of vehicles using an alternative fuel to process their restructuring social plans and leading their attacks on workers in several countries.

The International Labour Network call for an international meeting of unions' activists and organizations that organize workers in auto parts and manufacturing plants, engineering and automobile distribution networks.

We want to continue, with more time, the meeting of the autoworkers that we organized at the last world meeting of the ILNSS in January 2018 in El Escorial, Madrid.
